However this determination is not binding on the United States Internal Revenue Service ("IRS") and the IRS may disagree with the treatment. In the case of Tranche Two Notes that bear periodic coupons, the consequences of the IRS disagreeing with the treatment include the possibility that coupon payments made to you (including any such coupon payments made at maturity) could be subject to tax at a 30 per cent. rate or at a lower rate specified by an applicable income tax treaty under an "other income" or similar provision. No additional amounts will be paid for such tax by us or by the applicable withholding agent. Amounts paid upon the redemption or maturity of the Tranche Two Notes are not expected to be subject to U.S. withholding tax and, if we (including any of our affiliates) are the withholding agent, we do not intend to withhold on such amounts. You should consult your own tax advisor regarding the U.S. tax consequences of purchasing, holding and disposing of the Tranche Two Notes.

Investors are dependent on the Issuer's and Guarantor's ability to pay all amounts due on the Securities, and therefore investors are subject to the Issuer's and Guarantor's credit risk and to changes in the market's view of the Issuer's and Guarantor's creditworthiness. Neither the Securities nor the Guarantee are bank deposits, and neither are insured or guaranteed by any compensation or deposit protection scheme. The value of and return on the Securities will be subject to the Issuer's credit risk and to changes in the market's view of the Issuer's creditworthiness. GSG and its consolidated subsidiaries ("Goldman Sachs") is a leading global investment banking, securities and investment management group and faces a variety of significant risks which may affect the Issuer's and the Guarantor's ability to fulfil their obligations under the Securities, including market and credit risks, liquidity risks, business activities and industry risks, operational risks and legal, regulatory and reputational risks. GSFCI is a wholly-owned subsidiary of the Goldman Sachs group. GSFCI is primarily involved in issuing securities, lending and entering into derivatives transactions with its affiliates for hedging purposes, and does not carry out any other operating business activities. As a result, GSFCI does not have a significant amount of share capital. Investors are exposed to a significantly greater credit risk by purchasing the Securities where GSFCI is the Issuer than they would be by purchasing securities from an issuer equipped with significantly more capital.
